

Clothing for EverySomebody

Beyond black and white, red and blue...there is a new you...find him! Now!

Devi wearing Johnny Was Top with Me Moi knit pant, John in Jimmy Stewart, Negretti and Robert Graham shirts with Sweat Tailor knit pant

An advertisement for Outback clothing. The top half features the word "Outback" in a stylized font, with "in the Temple of Venus" written below it. Below that is the slogan "Be Fearless Choose Love" and the website "www.devijuice.com". To the right is a painting of a woman with long, flowing, golden-red hair. The bottom half contains three sets of store information: Point Richmond CA, Berkeley CA, and Ashland OR.

Outback
in the Temple
of Venus

Be Fearless Choose Love
www.devijuice.com

139 W. Richmond Ave.
POINT RICHMOND CA
510.237.1199

1799A Fourth St.
BERKELEY CA
510.527.1945

275 E. Main St.
ASHLAND OR
541.708.0695

Aloha LoveTribe!

Many have asked me my response to what appears as a horrible tragedy and travesty.

It hits me, I feel it, it hurts, I choose love and receive the gift of the present moment .That is an active response, making me more available for other forms of activism. I don't make assumptions or judge the process yet I take it in with all the possible futures moving through my awareness. And I respond moment by moment with loving kindness, and actions that are well thought out.

As the Outback label on the clothing I designed and produced said,
Listening Mind - Speaking Heart

I was in my home in San Miguel De Allende, Mexico last month and rented a car. There is much more traffic then when I first came 18 years ago. Each day I was surprised as I drove up to a busy cross street and someone would immediately notice my need and let me in! And on returning to my home by the Bay, I experienced the extreme opposite, being cut off and squeezed out. If I'm conscious when driving I let people in, and now after my experience in Mexico, I am much more conscious in order to let people in.

We are moving into a time where more vigilance is needed, and acts of kindness. I remember a friend saying 30 years ago after taking the EST training something like, "Damn, now that I'm awake I can't hide from my responsibilities or blame others for my life. Now I understand why ignorance is bliss!" There's no going back, so let's be more conscious in order to take care of each other, more conscious that all of our actions are done with kindness, awareness of our oneness ... working for a world we want to live in, instead of against a world we don't.

be fearless - choose love

xoxo Devi

The New Power Suit

Heather 1. Isabel De Pedro skirt, Deca Jacket, Asian Eye felt hat. 2. Love & Libery Jacket, Why skirt (super comfy/stretchy and looks great on most bodies). 3. Johnny Was embroidered blouse. Leslie in Karen Klein knit top, Hanna patch plaid skirt Mayumi Oda visted us ...

Left some of her signed books with us and left with a new wardrobe!

My friend (lucky me!) and a treasure in this world. She is an artist, antinuclear activist, a healing farmer/teacher in Hawaii and vessel of big love. Often called the Matisse of Japan, first to bring Goddesses into our awareness with her book of painted every day goddesses. She also illustrated this book whose new addition comes at the perfect time.

All royalties are donated to antinuclear advocacy and community resilience across boundaries,
RandomKindnessProject.org

Signed copies... great gifts of kindness! Call to reserve yours.

*RING THE Bells THAT still CAN RING
FORGET YOUR PERFECT
Offering THERE IS A CRACK IN EVERYTHING THAT'S HOW THE
light GETS IN.*

P.S. Leonard Cohen

A lover poet deep feeler feller...
Bringing my heart to its knees ...
Thanks for showing the beauty in the ugliness and the pain ... RIP LC

"... there's a blaze of light in every word, it doesn't matter which you heard ... the holy or the broken Hallelujah ..."

Additional 20% off 1 item

Password : Lovetribe

Offer Expires: Nov. 24, 2016