Hola LoveTribe,

I'll be coming up this week, bringing lots of new summer clothing and accessories.

This first Friday Art Walk, we will be having the opening of Beverly Kleiber's pastels. <http://www.beverlykleiber.com> Beverly will be there for the festivities, along with our fun, talented stylists "Temple Tenders"... and me!

We will be kicking off summer with a special discount for the weekend!

Looking forward to seeing many of you in our garden of love and beauty.

xoxo Devi

PS I'm feeling a sprouting of the seeds of beautifully creative imaginations. Springtime has that way of sprouting and birthing and imagination is the intercourse (lovemaking) and the womb. I was speaking with a friend of mine Judith Jenya, who spent a lot of time in the Balkans during the war, where she took children from both "sides" and created an art camp, giving them respite, understanding and healing. In response to a man's violent action against another she said, "He just didn't have enough imagination". Something to ponder ...

If you want more beauty, fun, joy and love in your life, cultivate those seeds, that sprout from imagination. Imagination is a force of nature (one of my first epiphanies). These seeds can also be harvested and planted in collective, community gardens, both literally and figuratively. It's springtime ... yeah!
