Aloha LoveTribe

Me and my visiting besties, Jan Michaels (yes the prolific and fabulous jewelry designer) and Joanne Black (the "Mad Woman" with many famous award winning marketing campaigns planting seeds of expansion like, "Master The Possibilities" for Mastercard) enjoying the spectacular lights on 4th st. They just get better every year! (The lights and my friends!)

And check out the lights, food, fun, music and shopping parties ... tonight in Pt Richmond!

Many of the shops will be open, serving snacks, drinks, music and offering great gift buying. PARTY! Bundle up and head out, don't let a little rain stop ya!

Shop Small this holiday!

Bamboo PJ's! 25% off

Thanks for modeling Yuki! These cozy soft stretchy pajamas come in rose, black and gray. The pants have pockets (which are handy for phone and ??), when your running around the house. But they are so comfy the pants and tops have been worn separately out about town! (They are hard to take off!). They make great gifts additional 25%

Cashmere sweaters and ponchos... 25% off

My good friends and S-heros, Patricia Ellsberg and Edie Hartshorne, and my daughter (and s-hero!) Shaye, wearing (and owning) our new cashmere sweaters and ponchos.

Party dresses 25% off (and you can wear out and about on errands too!) Or to an awards ceremony!

Our Bay Area (and universal) S-hero, Betty Reid Soskin. A 97 year young Park Ranger (go on her tour), author (published her autobiography last year), mother, singer and Gails' aunt ;) modeling a Biya dress for us at her home and going glam winning Glamour's 2018 Woman of the Year Award!! Yeah Betty! What an inspiration you are.

Friends, family, community, relationships ... it's all relatives!
and it makes us relevant!
Someone who made MANY people feel relevant and loved left his body this week. Tom built a home (with his handy hands!) for his community with a large hot pool which he worked hard to maintain. He opened his home to community every Sunday for over 35 years, creating a warm, safe and sacred place for his family, friends and wider community. Many people have hit the surf in that tub, and lay (snuggled) about in the cozy living room overlooking the Bay. Or sat around the big table with abundant food also overlooking the Bay and each other. He facilitated the deepening of community in many ways both at his home and in Europe. And though his love, warmth, smile and ease will be deeply missed, he enhanced these qualities in his community and these qualities both ripple out and leave a very bonded "family" including a long time (beautiful in all ways) partner Sabine and their sweet (gorgeous) son Florian. We'll miss you Tom, but way to go! Going to a favorite place listening to his favorite band, sitting between his favorite women and then going home brushing his teeth and having a massive stroke. And transitioning very peacefully I heard. Living and dying in peace and love.

I woke up to this picture Vivian sent. Thanks Viv!

Enjoy giving and receiving ... love, food, words, hugs. I gave a sweater to a friend and he said he felt hugged by me whenever he put it on. Obviously the greatest gift you can give is the giving of yourself, by loving and being your unique self and letting that gift ripple out.

Peaceful, healthy, happy Holidays from us all Outback
Much love xox Devi

PS Sorry Ashland LoveTribe, that the news isn't more local but the special discounts and sentiments are!
