Dear LoveTribe,

At Outback and in our Temple of love and beauty we've been non-stop creating, playing, working, interacting. All while personally grappling with the suffering going on in our world. Joy, gratitude and grief. Yes, one doesn't negate the other. Just like having compassion for Israelis and for Palestinians doesn't negate or lessen the empathy for either. It actually deepens it. Anger and hatred only shields us from feeling the pain, the grief. See the heart breaking and heart opening video at the end of this newsletter.

At Outback it is our passion to create beauty, community, harmony and clothing that makes people feel alive and comfortable in their skin.

And to bring awareness to our oneness rising above the illusion of our division.

Hsiao-Yee and I went to Italy ...
(to eat, walk, experience) and work on our Devitalia collection for next Spring and Fall.

For this fall/winter we brought back (arrived last week) 1500 pieces of our new Devitalia line in stretch corduroy and cotton knits, plus sweaters, jackets, coats and accessories.

This picture is our first day walking 12 hours around Florence. We are walking up to the top of the city to the Piazzale Michelangelo. Here is a beautiful peek of the City (and of Hsiao-Yee).

And this picture is of us walking down ...

Where we encountered thousands of people of all ages, from children, to elders with canes, holding candles and holding peace. A walking prayer for peace, walking up the 2 paths that lead to the top. Both paths completely full and looking at thousands of candles/people in the city below. Yes, we all want peace.

I'm sharing this video which is both heart breaking and heart opening, and speaks to the enormity of what's going on, and the strength, even while broken, to keep an open heart. This video of a mom, broken by the killing of her peace loving son, by Hamas. She said she had a small breath and while she had it, she wanted to get this message out, click on it to hear her, and help her and her son's loss make their contribution to humanity.
