Heather our Joy Elf, in Devitalia outfit, Johnny Was purse, sylca necklace.

Dear LoveTribe,

Join me on this darkest day of the year, Solstice time and time to bring in DeLight. Yes, this is a time of darkness and it's more important then ever to bring in the joy, bring in de-light. It takes all that we have and are to stand in, see, feel, act from, this awareness of the dark and yet also bring in the light, de-light ... joy.

So for this we brought in Heather (our joy elf), which you can see in the unplanned photo shoot from Saturday. She is pure delight, as are the rest of our stylist/hostesses. In the photos, Hsiao-Yee captured her joy and she captured Yukiko and Jordyns' light (who was in shopping with her mom!)

Everyone's favorite pant, Peaceful Samurai now in a wabi sabi version at 50% off.

Why are they everyone's favorite? Could be

- the cut is very flattering for a fuller pant
- hidden pockets you just want to hangout in
- or the most comfortable fabric you probably ever wore (the danger is sleeping in them)

Why is it wabi Sabi and 50% off?

- Wabi Sabi - the perfection of imperfection, one leg is a bit twisted on the bottom, making the 2 pleats show up differently on each cuff.
- Why half off? Well we could have charged double as an art piece that reminds us life is perfect, even the imperfections. But we went with 50% off as that concept might be a stretch for many! :)
