Dear Mama and/or LoveTribe ...

Mama Shaye multi tasking by modeling (here and below) for us, while Kobe enjoys learning to take care of horses with Steph. Shaye is wearing our Devitalia linen collection, breezy coat (you can see how well it flows in the breeze!) with the tulip skirt and one of our favorite scarves, now worn as a bandeau top. With African sun hat.

Below mixed with Magnolia Pearl.

What a remarkable and transformative era we find ourselves in as we raise the next generation! We are witnessing the delicate balance between the old world and the new, a dynamic interplay that is evident in our political landscape—where fear and division often clash with unity and compassion. This tension is mirrored in the rapid advancements in technology, where innovations like deep fakes challenge our perceptions while simultaneously sparking unprecedented creativity. The swift evolution of artificial intelligence is reshaping our reality, providing us with partners in both business and personal realms, enhancing our lives in ways we are only beginning to understand. As parents, particularly mothers, we are acutely attuned to these changes, as our children's experiences are deeply intertwined with this new world. Amidst this whirlwind, the unwavering love of a mother shines brightly, empowering us to juggle multiple responsibilities, maintain hope, and advocate fiercely for what is best for our children. We are continuously learning to support their development and our own across all dimensions—physical, emotional, spiritual, and financial. Indeed, let us celebrate the incredible journey of motherhood and the profound impact it has on nurturing the future. Yay moms!

Transitions Outback

(Mama) Serene who most of you that have been shopping at Berkeley knows, has been a fabulous stylist and hostess in the Berkeley Outback. She helped many of you find the perfect outfit and/or wardrobe.

She is moving on whahhhhh! (but we are also very happy for her). She will be a realtor working with Compass. I know she will be fabulous at that as well! So if you're looking for a property, she's amazing (and LOVES) researching and listening to a person's needs and will find the perfect spot. Which if she's worked with you as a stylist you know is true. AND we will MISS YOU Serene!!!
