Aloha LoveTribe!

Time to party in the spring with our community at tonight's Art Walk!
And...

Expect good news! Here's some to start

- one last weekend of our Semi-Annual Sale, with further discounts now additional % off, as we transition into spring ...
- Huge $24 section now added
- Abundance of new beautiful pieces from Johnny Was and Citron. A selection of these are out, though we need more time to transform the store for the summer. Some pieces have joined our half-off racks, some 20%-30% off, and choose a piece of new spring clothing with password LOVETRIBE.
- My semi-annual buying trip to Las Vegas trade shows bestowed many new, comfy, stylin' clothes, (great prices) and other treasures, coming in daily.
- I've been working on a collective collection with my supplier/partners and after producing together for awhile, everyone seems ready to design the collection... Yeah! For those that have been with me for years, we're using my theme from a 1988 collection, Open Hands - Open Hearts. It is the loving openness we are structuring the line around, the way of doing business, the beauty of the clothing and the message. Shaye put up our collective URL page holder ohoh.family ... and the fun has begun!

Every year in the Venetian Hotel in Las Vegas, they do a spectacular Chinese New Year installation. This year there were roosters and coins, yet the predominant feature was LOVE ...

Good News! LOVE! People have been feeling like this is a "fulcrum" time, a time to do what we are here to do (with love). They are waking up and stepping out. Yes, fear still pops up in all it's creative ways ... doubts disguised as common sense, physical reactions (increased heart rate, sweating, dizziness) that pop up from hormonal, sugar, activity, scary thoughts ... generating more scary thoughts. Yet, we are learning to breathe through these thoughts and feelings and ease them with good foods, epsom salt baths, gratitude, hugs, puppy love, smiling more, appreciating the little things, among many other ways.

Playing like our lives depend on it (they do), while not taking it so seriously.

Life is but a dream ... shaboom shaboom

This is the time to come together, work together, rise above the form and stick with the basics ... Love. We (mostly) all want to live in a loving world, a world that works for all. We just have different ideas (and driving fears) on how to get there. Sticking to a vision of what we want to become ... all else will be overcome. Taking one loving step at a time ... no need to rush ... feel the perfection and ...
